For my final project I want to try and create a website for my uncle's new restaurant. The restaurant is located at Fairlane Mall's food court and has been open for only a few months now. I will be focusing on creating a website to broadcast the menu items, display pictures of the place,and maybe provide customer with contact information and a brief description of the business.